NAKASENDO TRAIL – Tsumago & Magome, Ochiai, and Nakatsugawa

MAGOME-JUKU POST TOWN

Magome-juku was once the prosperous 43rd post along the historic Nakasendo Trail which connected Kyoto and Tokyo. Post towns like Tsumago, Magome, Ochiai, and Nakatsugawa have been brought back to their Edo Period grandeur. Start your journey by taking a bus from Nakatsugawa Station to admire Magome's unique hillside positioning which provides visitors with an astounding view of the Nakatsugawa landscape. Check out the amazingly photogenic Magome Waterwheel. Then enjoy your stroll along the street, making sure to stop by the Toson Memorial Museum or a stylish coffee shop. At the top of Magome Hill, you will be rewarded with an astounding view of Magome and the Mt. Ena mountain range. The 8 km hiking trail will lead you to the Tsumago-juku to feel the historical and rural Japan.

Magome-juku is reachable either by bus or on foot. If you take a bus at JR Nakatsugawa Station to Magome, it will take about 25 minutes and cost 560 yen.

OCHIAI-JUKU POST TOWN

Another location worth checking out on your way to Magome is old Ochiai-juku which is the 44th post town along the Nakasendo Trail. Today, the trail exists as a beautifully preserved stone path with a single trail that winds itself through a lush green forest, surrounding visitors in tall trees and green plant life. The Honjin is one of the only remaining rest buildings in this post town and is thus registered as an important historical site in Japan. The abundance of nature along Ochiai makes it an excellent place to visit in spring as well as fall, when the autumn colors lead the way along the stone path to Magome-juku.

Ochiai-juku is reachable either by bus or on foot. Take a bus from JR Nakatsugawa Station to Magome and get off the bus at Ochiai. The journey will take about 10 minutes and cost 250 yen.

NAKATSUGAWA-JUKU POST TOWN

Do not miss the 45th post town near Nakatsugawa Station! Upon your arrival, there are a few places to check out. First is the Nakasendo Historical Museum which houses artifacts from Nakatsugawa's rich history as well as information about the surrounding area. There are also a number of Japanese sweet shops, sake breweries, and historical buildings in the area. You can learn more about these historically important establishments by reading the small information board on the front of each building.

Nakatsugawa-juku is a quick 10 minute walk from JR Nakatsugawa Station!

NATURE – Naegi Castle Ruins and Tsukechi Gorge

NAEGI CASTLE RUINS

A short distance from Nakatsugawa Station stands the ruins of Naegi Castle, constructed 400 years ago and once home to the prominent Toyama Family. In 1871 the buildings were destroyed and today, all that remains are the impressive stone foundations. Despite the main structure being long gone, there is still quite a lot to see while walking around the castle grounds. Most noticeable are perhaps the large natural stones which served as the foundation of the original castle. Considering the majority of the castles in Japan were built on flat planes at the same time the castle was erected, the detail on these foundations actually make them quite unique. At the top of the complex, visitors can find a well-placed observation tower, which offers an astounding view of the Nakatsugawa landscape as well as Kiso River. Something that is interesting to note about the construction of the observation tower itself is that it was made without the use of nails! In spring, there are plenty of spots for cherry blossom viewing and in fall, the landscape is filled with the colors of autumn.

A relaxing walk to Naegi Castle Ruins and a tour of all the scenic spots along the way should take about 1 hour. A hiking map is available at Nakatsugawa Tourist Information Center.

TSUKECHI GORGE

Tsukechi Gorge is without a doubt one of the most naturally beautiful locations in this region but, despite its radiance, it still remains somewhat of a hidden gem to many. Visitors can admire its gorgeous landscape at any time of year. During autumn, the area is filled with beautiful leaves in different shades of red, yellow, and orange and, in winter, there is a good chance that you could see the natural landscape blanketed in pure white snow. In spring, the area is perfect for a relaxing walk among the gorgeous variety of flowers. Tsukechi Gorge is also the ideal place to escape the heat during Japan's well known humid summer months. There are even a number of cabins and popular outdoor camping areas where you can go swimming to cool off! You can witness the gorge's turquoise blue falls and delight in the rich nature of all the seasons.

Tsukechi Gorge is accessible by car. Rent a car near JR Nakatsugawa Station then have a pleasant drive north for about 40 minutes and 30 km.

HIKING – Nakasendo Trail and Naegi Castle Ruins

HIKING THROUGH NAKASENDO TRAIL FROM NAKATSUGAWA-JUKU TO TSUMAGO-JUKU

If you are brave enough, take the long hike from Nakatsugawa-juku to Tsumago-juku! The total length is about 15km, taking around five to seven hours depending on how often you stop. Start your journey at Nakatsugawa Station as it is the gateway to the Tsumago-Magome area (and because the tourist center will look after your luggage during your hike!). Follow the street signs towards Ochiai-juku, which will take you to a paved path leading to Magome-juku, and finally Tsumago-juku. Enjoy the local cuisine, admire the authentic Japanese culture and enjoy a wide variety of gorgeous landscapes, including narrow streets, rice fields, forests, and mountains which follow one after the other.

To get back to Nakatsugawa, take a train to Nagiso Station. If you use the super express train, the trip will take about 13 minutes and cost 640 yen. The local train takes about 20 minutes and costs 320 yen. You can use your JR Pass on all these trains.

A HIKE TO NAEGI CASTLE RUINS

Another remarkable hiking course in Nakatsugawa would be to the remains of a much older historical site than the Nakasendo trail: the ruins of Naegi Castle, built on a small mountain in 1520 and destroyed in 1871. Get the hiking map at the tourist center, and follow the route from JR Nakatsugawa Station to the top. The 7km long round trip will take you approximately 2.5 hours along a scenic, tree-lined mountain road. Your efforts will finally be rewarded with a breathtaking panoramic view of Nakatsugawa Valley and the Kiso River. This site also offers you an observatory to capture the best scenes no matter the season.

Your hiking base would be JR Nakatsugawa Station!

EXPERIENCE – Kashimo Cycling Tour and Temple Experience

JOIN A CYCLING TOUR IN KASHIMO

Nakatsugawa area is renowned for its beautiful hikes and cycling routes, which take you on a journey around many historical sites often separated by just a few kilometers. Take the opportunity to experience a unique cycling tour, allowing you to discover the Japanese countryside, Kashimo village and its gorgeous cycling routes, and Kashimo Meijiza, a kabuki theater in Kashimo village built by local volunteers at a time when local performances were popular. When you enter Kashimo Meijiza, don't forget to pick up a small pamphlet about the art of kabuki and the building's architecture. The highlight of the picturesque scenery you'll see while cycling around is of course the village of Kashimo. Time seems to have stood still here, with dozens of traditional Japanese houses, and narrow streets which provide a good contrast to the backdrop of the vast mountainous landscapes.

Participate in a guided tour organized by Tono Guided Cycling. For more information, see p.9.

TRY THE ZEN ACTIVITIES IN THE TEMPLE

Among the Japanese terms that have invaded the world's languages, Zen is probably one of the most famous, and originally refers to a branch of Japanese Buddhism, with a focus on meditation in the world. At Iou-ji temple, discover the art of the Matcha tea ceremony, which creates an aura of calm around the careful and precise preparation of the beverage. Then, head to Zensho-ji temple to experience the practice of meditation, which is at the heart of Zen Buddhism. Zazen is the sitting position of Buddha, where the prefix za means "seated" and the Zen suffix, "meditation." A few steps away, Kofuku-ji temple offers an introductory lesson to shuujii, traditional calligraphy. The training consists of writing your name in kanji, or hiragana. Stroke by stroke, the master will guide you through each character until you can complete your sign without assistance.
